SJS on Friendly Ground For 'Make or Break' Tilt

BY SAL ORLANDO

Fresh from a border-to-border road trip, San Jose State returns to Spartan Stadium tomorrow night to defend its unbeaten, untied local-field mark against Denver University in the ninth annual Homecoming football game.

Kickoff time for the intercollegiate clash is at 8:30 o'clock.

The Spartans of Bob Bronzan opened their season by dumping Drake, 26-7, at Spartan Stadium and then went on the road and lost decisions to Washington State at Pullman, Wash., 33-18, Stanford at Palo Alto, 40-20, and Arizona State at Tempe, Ariz., 47-13, while gaining a tie with San Diego, 27-27, in the Border city.

Bronzan has called this the "make or break" week for his charges. If they play against Pioneers the way they did in practice early in the week, Bronzan figures they will upset Denver, a six-point favorite, and go on to a fairly successful second half of the season.

COULD BE ROUGH

If the Golden Raiders succumb to the power of the Pioneers, things could be rough the rest of the way with College of the Pacific, Cal Poly and Fresno State as opponents on successive dates. The latter schools have the strongest teams in their history.

"We don't intend to lose this one," Bronzan said. "The fellows have been hitting harder this week than at any other time of the season and we are ready," he continued.

Bronzan has made several changes in the SJS starting line up. The biggest surprise in some quarters is the announcement that Marv McKean will open at quarterback in place of Bob Reinhart, the nation's second leading passer.

McKEAN AHEAD

McKean was rated ahead of Reinhart until the Drake game when the latter took over. McKean was just beginning to return to form when injured the week before "L'affaire San Diego."

McKean's work this week has earned him the starting nod, although Reinhart will alternate with him. In 22 attempts, McKean has connected on nine occasions for 124 yards while Reinhart has hit on 61 of 111 tries for 781 yards and seven touchdowns.

Along with McKean in the starting backfield will be Jim Riley left half, Art Powell at right half, and Pat Hiram at fullback. That trio of running backs includes three of the four leading runners on the team, yardage-wise.

On 24 carries, Riley has gained 201 yards for an 8.4 yard per carry average. His 73-yard run against Stanford is the longest SJS run from scrimmage. Powell has gained 176 yards on 18 carries for a 9.8 yard per carry average. Hiram has a 6.3 per carry, on 18 tries.

Powell is the fifth leading pass receiver in the nation with 18 catches for 333 yards and two touchdowns.

Most of the mid-week changes made by Bronzan took place in the line where three new faces appear, while one player will be seeing his first action at a new position.

Pete Galloni, rated by the coaching staff as "one of the guttiest" players on the team, the Pioneers' speedy end who runs the 100-yard dash in 9.7, will get starting call at end opposite Hal Boutte, the squad's second leading pass receiver who has toted the ball only seven times, but has gained 123 yards, a fantastic 17.6 per-carry average. Hiram has a 6.3 per carry, on 18 tries.

Bob Marciel, who reported four days late for practice after considering attending Washington State, has completed an uphill battle and moved into the starting center slot.

With Denver, the Spartans will meet a hard-driving team that specializes in long sustained drives instead of the trying for the long-gainer.

Quarterback Walt Yanowich and halfbacks George Colbert and Johnny Wilson keynote the Denver attack. Yanowich is 14th in the nation in passing with 35 completions on 70 attempts for 430 yards and four touchdowns.

Colbert heads the list of seven of the top ten Pioneer ball-carriers back from last year. On 50 carries, Colbert has averaged 6.6 yards per try and has clicked on five of 11 passes for 52 yards and two touchdowns.

Wilson is the seventh leading receiver in the nation with 17 catches for 251 yards. Ernie Pitts, caught 15 passes for 239 yards.

Only doubtful participant for the Pioneers is fullback Bill Korn who suffered a charley-horse against New Mexico. In his place, has caught 11 passes for 144 yards.

Tom Ryan and Jim Hughes will start at tackle with team captain Charley Kaahue, shifted from guard the week before, being used in reserve along with Prentis Porter.

The tackles will be the key to the Spartan defense because the Pioneers run much of the offense off-tackle.

Austin "Porkchops" Laramie, who had been a regular tackle, will start at guard opposite Herb Boyer. Both boys will be starting there for the first time.

Bob Marciel, who reported four days late for practice after considering attending Washington State, has completed an uphill battle and moved into the starting center slot.

Egypt Pulls Out of Sinai; Israelites Claim Control

LONDON — (UP) — Egyptian forces began pulling out of Sinai Desert Thursday night to consolidate west of the Suez Canal against British, French and Israel attack.

The move came as Israeli troops claimed they had won control of all but a few isolated pockets on the Sinai Peninsula in a day of bitter fighting.

Egypt claimed the Canal itself had been blocked by a ship sunk by French and British bombers in another day of aerial assault expected to be followed by an Anglo-French invasion of Suez.

The Israeli government announced through its embassy in Washington that Egyptian troops in Sinai were in full retreat and abandoning most of their equipment. This claim said Egyptian casualties "killed, wounded and captured" were estimated at about 5000, with Israeli losses light—including less than 100 dead.

Even as the British and French stepped up their assaults in Egyptian airfields and Israeli forces claimed victory in the Sinai Desert, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser proclaimed his defiance over Cairo radio.

"Egypt will fight a total war against the British-French-Israeli alliance to defend her freedom and independence," he said.

"Britain and France have blocked Suez Canal navigation at a time when they have aroused the whole world by claiming they are protecting Canal navigation," the communique said.

Allied headquarters on Cyprus disputed the Egyptian claim. An official announcement said the Egyptians themselves had attempted to tow the ship into a sinking position halfway down the Canal. British naval aircraft attacked it twice and sunk it on the second attempt. Headquarters believed it was clear of the channel outside the demarcation bouys.

It was the second day of British and French aerial attack which by midafternoon brought Cairo its eighth air raid alert.

RUSS CHIEF SENDS NOTE — MOSCOW — (UP) — The Soviet Foreign Ministry announced Thursday that Premier Nikolai Bulganin has sent a letter to President Eisenhower dealing with the mid-east situation. The contents of the letter were not revealed to Moscow.

The Cardinal received the delegation in his shabby palace after recording an appeal to the Nation asking an immediate return of calm and promising to "speak about the way ahead" within two days. He told this correspondent he had to have time to inform himself about the present situation before he could "give the lead."

Bonfire, Parade Cap Homecoming

By FRANK WARREN

San Jose State's Centennial Homecoming festivities will draw to a close this weekend with tonight's bonfire rally and the Homecoming parade and football game tomorrow evening.

The annual welcome of SJS alumni is expected to draw 1500 to 2000 former Spartans back to the campus on this, Sparta's hundredth birthday, according to Peg Major, Alumni Association secretary.

Festivities get underway tonight at 8 o'clock on the Spartan Stadium parking lot with the bonfire rally. Built by Alpha Phi Omega and guarded by volunteers from various fraternities, the bonfire will be set ablaze as a climax to the rally. Between 10:30 and 11 o'clock tonight, excerpts of the rally will be heard on tape on Custer's Caravan over KLOK.

"A Century of Spartan Sports" is the theme for Saturday's parade which begins at 5 p.m.

Seventeen floats, numerous bands, the queen and her attendants, and the college's AFROTC and ROTC drill teams will participate in the procession through downtown San Jose.

In cooperation with the college, downtown merchants will close their business establishments early. First street parking will be halted at 2 p.m., and those vehicles already parked on the main thoroughfare will have until 4 p.m. to move, according to Jim Curnutt, parade committee chairman.

The ties that bind you alumni of San Jose State College to your alma mater are intangible, but very strong. They are strong enough to draw you from hundreds of miles back to the campus for the Homecoming Celebration every year. They are strong enough to prompt thousands of you to continue active membership in your Alumni Association. They are strong enough to make you feel a glow of pride whenever you learn of the noteworthy achievements of our students and faculty.

This pride, you should remember, is engendered in the opposite direction too. We who have made the management of San Jose State College our life work derive great satisfaction from learning of the accomplishments of our graduates.

In all the excitement of the parade, football game, and Homecoming Ball, don't forget to visit with your old friends on the faculty. We look forward to seeing you again this weekend or, for that matter, at any time of the year when you happen to be passing by. You are always welcome at San Jose State College.

John T. Wahlquist
President, San Jose State College

Judging of the floats by three local citizens will be on a 100 point basis, which will be limited to adherence to theme, workmanship and originality. Points will range from 76 to 100 for outstanding floats, 51 to 75 for good floats, 26 to 50 for average floats, and 0 to 25 for fair entries.

Centennial Homecoming nears its end with the meeting of the Golden Raiders and the University of Denver Pioneers at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night under the lights at Spartan Stadium.

BAND TO RENDER SALUTE — During the 30-minute half-time ceremonies, the Spartan band will render a salute to the alumni in its music and marching formations. Also, during the half-time, Queen Anna Beal and Jerry McCarthy, Homecoming Committee chairman, will award trophies to the winning float entries in the three divisions: fraternity, sorority and independent.

The largest alumni Homecoming crowd in Sparta history is expected to attend the after-game reunion and dance at Exposition Hall in the Santa Clara County Fair Grounds. Scheduled to begin at 11:30 p.m. and end at 2 a.m., the reunion will feature the music of the Billy White Combo.

Undergraduates can attend the Junior Class After-Game Dance from 10 to 1 o'clock tomorrow night in the Women's Gym. The dance will cost 50 cents for couples and 35 cents for stage.

Entertainers will include Barbara Johnson, singer; the Gordon Brothers, singers who accompany themselves on guitars; the Kay Lewis line of dancers; Ronnie and Patti, hand balancing act; Bobbi Dimilo, singer and a special baton twirling feature.

During the evening Coach Bob Bronzan and the State football team will be introduced. Bronzan is to give a talk on tomorrow's game. Centennial Queen Anna Beal also will make an appearance during the rally.

The bonfire will be the climax of the evening's activities.

EDITORIAL

A Special Year for Homecoming

We are especially happy to welcome back our alumni during this our Centennial Year. Our Centennial slogan, Pioneers for 100 Years, takes on added meaning during the Homecoming celebration. You, the Alumni, have played an important role in the development of San Jose State's pioneering spirit. We are proud to share that spirit with you.

This, the Centennial Year, also marks 100 years of progress for SJS. The present construction and recently completed buildings stand as a monument to you, the SJS graduate.

For many years the institution's only function was the training of teachers, and there is scarcely a community in the state that has not employed in its school system, at one time or another, a graduate of this college. It has become known nationally as a foremost teacher-training institution.

In response to the demands of the community however, and in accordance with state laws, the college offering has been expanded until today the institution conducts a wide variety of courses and many occupational curricula in more than 30 departments.

This expansion is another tribute to you, our Alumni.

European Uprisings Overshadowed

One of the saddest commentaries on the Mideast conflict is that it has completely overshadowed the uprisings in Communist-dominated Hungary and Poland. The latter presented an opportunity the free world has been waiting for years. Now it is slipping away.

The free nations had the opportunity to go before the United Nations and demand that Russia be censured for her use of armed force in trying to derail the freedom-bound plans of the Hungarians and Poles.

In the eyes of the world, Russia would have been disgraced. Apparently, though, the lack of a United Nations censure hasn't altered the effect of the revolts. Russian troops are withdrawing from Hungary, but they are managing the shift ever so quietly.

By the time the hubbub ends in the Mideast, the Russians probably will be "in the clear." Then if the Big Three powers, Britain, France and the United States, attempt to ask the General Assembly to censor the Soviets, they will be rebuked in kind.

The Russians will say, "Before you censor us for our interference in other countries' internal affairs, consider first the actions of the British and French. Didn't they interfere in Egypt? Didn't the United States, even, join with us in condemning that act?" Thus will be their reply.

It would have meant so much if Russia were to have been condemned. Those nations that today are leaning toward Communism would have made an abrupt about face. They may, even yet.

It would be wrong to assert that the revolts, the one in Hungary in particular, were unsuccessful. Quite the contrary is true.

The Hungarians, especially, have proved that all the weapons and strength available were not enough to crush their hunger for freedom.

Their courage shouldn't be allowed to pass unnoticed. It is certain that the Russians will never forget it.

Greek Parties Set

By ELEANOR TOGNOLI

Many Homecoming festivities are planned this weekend by campus organizations. Some of the activities are open houses and others are private, open only to members of the sponsoring organizations.

Some of the groups and their functions are:

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Big doings are planned by the A O Pi's Saturday night after the game. An open house will be held with a combo from Theta Chi featured. The function is in honor of alumnae, and parents and guests are welcome. Refreshments will be served after the game until midnight.

Corinne Borello heads the open house committee which includes Dianne Harlow, invitations; Nancy Goodrich, refreshments and Elma Van Fossen, clean-up.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

A buffet dinner for alumni, brothers and their dates will be held at the chapter house tomorrow before the game. Following it, a party is scheduled at Club Almaden.

DELTA UPSILON

Following the football game, members and their dates will hold a party at the Fun Farm in San Jose. Alumni will be entertained at the chapter house from 2-5 p.m.

KAPPA ALPHA

Coffee Consumption Spirals Upward at Sparta As Float Makers Calm Down Frayed Nerves

By LEIGH WEIMERS

The reason for the sudden upsurge in coffee consumption at San Jose State is readily apparent to those people who have been building floats for the Homecoming Parade. Coffee is, to them, a necessity. It soothes nerves, jangled from lack of sleep. It stimulates tired bodies. It keeps them awake between classes.

To the majority of people, however, a float is just a float. They pop up miraculously at parades. Tiny children say "Ooh" and "Aah." Sweet little old ladies remark, "My, isn't that quaint." And businessmen hope they will pass by quickly, paying the way for more majorettes.

But, there is more to float-building than meets the eye. Thusly, the SPARTAN DAILY, in true crusading form presents the behind-the-scenes story of the big float escapade.

WHO THOUGHT OF IT?

"Once upon a time" (to plagiarize Mother Goose) some poor soul came on the idea of having floats in parades. Since that time, his name has been referred to rather irreverently by countless float-builders.

Since most parades have a central theme, the float must conform to have any chance of being a "winner." This is not always the easiest thing to do. Some themes—"100 Years of Successful Stump-Blasting," for example—are rather hard to follow.

Being a hardy group, however, the Do-It-Yourself float-construction people come through with a general plan.

Then, applying this plan to some means of transportation, such as a truck, trailer, or ox-cart, they are ready to begin the actual construction.

OUCH!

Smashing more fingers than nails, they build up a general framework of two-by-fours, blood, sweat and tears. In its early stages, the framework resembles an oil-field constructed by Mongolian idiots. Next to come to the fore are the sculptors who fit chicken-wire over the forms, trying to make them look like something. Anything! (Forming chicken-wire is not recommended for people with ulcers or weak hearts. It has a tendency to snap back into rolls, trapping hapless workmen within.)

And then, the finishing touches. Squares of crepe paper are stuffed, one square at a time, into the holes in the chicken-wire. This sounds easy, but has been known to result in all sorts of neuroses and psychoses.

Oh joy! The great moment is at hand. The float trundles off down the street. The parade is on.

As expected, the kiddies gasp, the elderly ladies comment, and the businessmen gripe. And what of our dauntless float-builders? They're now sleeping right through the parade!

Just Like Housewives, Work Of Rally Group is Never Done

When the last ember of tonight's Homecoming bonfire dies out, members of the San Jose State Rally Committee will heave a collective sigh of relief, for one of their biggest jobs of the semester—the Homecoming rally—will have been completed. They won't have too much time for relaxation, however, for almost immediately they will begin working on an exchange rally for College of Pacific.

The pattern of finishing one job and immediately beginning another is not new to the Rally Committee. In fact, it is mere routine to them by now; even before the semester actually started the committee was planning the opening rally of the season.

The Rally Committee, with approximately 400 active members, is the largest student organization on campus, according to Gary Waller, chairman of the group. The committee meets every Wednesday night in Morris Dailey Auditorium to plan their coming activities.

THREE HOME RALLIES

This semester the group will have held three home rallies and three exchange rallies. In the exchange rally system, the committee selects a program of performers and skits that will appear at the opposition school. In return, the other school brings their talent to our campus. This semester we will hold exchange rallies with COP, Fresno State and Cal Poly.

HIGH SCHOOL CONVENTION

During the Spring semester the organization plays host to the annual High School Rally Convention. Approximately 40 high schools throughout this area attend the convention, which will be held for the fifth year this Spring.

The committee plays host to visiting boxing and basketball teams and sponsors the Ugly Man Contest in the Spring. Also it is this committee that has the responsibility of selecting the song girls and yell leaders.

The committee has been allotted $2500 of the Student Body budget funds to use for their activities this year. The committee feels that tonight's rally will be a good example of the type of work they do. Why not view the rally and then give the group your ideas and suggestion? After all, they're working for you.

"D" FOR DRAKE—For many Spartan rooters this is the first chance they have had to actually view the end result of the San Jose Card stunt section. The card stunts, performed on the student side of the field, are not visible from that area. ## Card Stunt Organization Spends Hours Planning

By DICK TYLER

Would you like a job that calls for organizing more than 2000 students into a precision group of performers? How about a job that requires approximately 15 hours of planning and seven minutes of actual performance for each presentation. If this type of activity appeals to you, then the job you want is that of chairman of the card stunt committee of the Rally Committee.

Presently holding down this time-consuming job is Jim Curnutt, who is responsible for the half-time card stunts at all home games and some away games.

Curnutt has a committee of 60 members that work with him on suggesting ideas for stunts, designing them, sorting the cards used in the stunts and stamping the cards with directions.

ACCOMMODATIONS INCREASED
In past games, the rooting section at Spartan Stadium has been composed of 970 students, all of whom took part in the card stunts. Starting with the Homecoming game, however, the section will be increased to accommodate 2080 students. The area will be 40 rows high and 52 seats wide.

Curnutt explained that this increase in size will allow the committee to plan larger and more colorful stunts. Also, he said, the stunts will be more legible to the spectators across the field.

The card stunt committee has eight colors available to them for use in the various stunts. The cards used in the stunts are double-purposed, with one side one color and the other a different color. The committee makes use of yellow, black, brown, blue, orange, white, red and green.

HARD TIME COLLECTING

At some colleges the committee in charge of the stunts has trouble collecting the cards after the half-time show. Some students seem to like to throw them. At SJS, Curnutt said, the students have been cooperating with the committee and nearly all cards have been returned.

"Student body funds pay for

Psi Chi Forms Due Today

Applications forms for all prospective members of Psi Chi, honorary psychology group, are available in the psychology office and must be returned by today. Publicity Chairman Don Staight warned today.

All candidates must have completed eight semester hours of psychology, or six hours and be registered in two semester hours. The prospective members must be either psychology majors or minors and have a psychology grade point average of 3.0. The overall grade point average must be at least 2.0, Staight said.

Serious Parade Commemorates Centennial Homecoming Tonight

"A Century of Spartan Sports"—Units in the 1956 Homecoming parade to roll tomorrow afternoon will be based on this Centennial theme.

Seriousness, in contrast to the humorous vein of last year's floats, will be the rule, with decorations depicting such things as the various sports, the queen's crown and SJS's tower.

HUGE CROWD EXPECTED

Although the largest crowd ever is expected to view the parade, its length will not compare with years past, according to Jim Curnutt, parade chairman. Fraternities and sororities have worked together to cut expenses and the number of floats.

Seventeen floats, several marching units, marching bands and decorated cars, starting at 5:15 p.m., will parade down S. 1st street from St. John to E. Williams street.

The reviewing stand will be located in front of Payless Drug Store, 213 S. 1st. It will seat judges, dignitaries from the college administration and faculty, representatives of the Downtown Merchants and Alumni Associations and city officials.

THREE TO JUDGE

The judges, two men and one woman, will represent the city's business firms. They will base their appraisal of participants on originality, adherence to theme and workmanship, and will award 76-100 points for outstanding work; 51-75 for good; 26-50 for average; and 0-25 for fair.

Three divisions will be judged—Independent floats, Greek floats and general participants. First, second and third place trophies will be awarded in both float divisions, and one trophy to the best entry not connected with SJS.

Jerry McCarthy, Homecoming chairman, will announce winners and present the trophies during halftime activities at the SJS-Denver game this evening.

LISTS ENTRANTS

Float entrants in the parade are Delta Gamma and Kappa Tau, Alpha Chi Omega and Sigma Chi; Gamma Phi Beta and Delta Sigma

Phi; Kappa Delta and Sigma Pi; Alpha Phi and Pi Kappa Alpha; Kappa Kappa Gamma and Theta Chi; Delta Zeta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon;

Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Tau Omega; Phi Mu and Lambda Chi Alpha; Alpha Omicron Pi and Theta Xi; Sigma Kappa and Delta Upsilon; Chi Omega and Phi Sigma Kappa; Sigma Nu and Kappa Alpha; Newman Club, Alpha Phi Omega; Independent Housing Council and the Hawaiian Club.

Jim Curnutt, senior advertising major, reports that approximately 30 persons have been working actively on all aspects of the parade since the semester began. Curnutt was appointed parade chairman at the beginning of the spring semester last year.

JV's Meet UC Ramblers

Still seeking its first victory of the season, the San Jose State Junior Varsity team meets the University of California Ramblers at Berkeley tomorrow.

The game will be played at 11 a.m. as a preliminary to the televised California-University of Oregon contest.

The JV's will field a strong team with the aid of ten members added from the varsity for the game.

UNIQUE PLAY SYSTEM

Coach Bill Walsh, pleased with the team's performance against Alameda Naval Air Station last week, will use the same unique system of play calling he employed last week.

Quarterback Joe Bondi will carry a set of single wing plays in his belt during the game. The plays will be shown to the team in the huddle.

The single wing will be used to supplement standard T-formation plays.

Walsh will sit in the press box and call plays to be used to the bench by telephone. The plays will be relayed to Bondi with large numbered cards.

STARTING LINEUP

Starting lineup for the San Jose team will be Jim Nystrom and Dale Jones at ends, Ray Emert and Bob Rose at tackles, Claude Brock and Dick Olive at tackles and Don De Tata, center.

The backfield will be Bondi at quarterback, Al Conley and John Webb at halfbacks and Dick Gerakos at fullback.

The California team will field a team that has won two of five games. The Ramblers defeated Alameda and Treasure Island and tied the Stanford Braves.

They have lost to the undefeated Cal Aggies and powerful Fort Ord.

Top runner for the Ramblers will be Hank Olguin, former Lincoln of San Jose and San Jose Junior College star.

The Ramblers edged the San Jose State JV's 33-26 in a Spartan Stadium thriller last year.

NOT THIS YEAR—San Jose State's Spartans will be out to do better in this year's Homecoming game Saturday night than they did against College of the Pacific in the 1955 Homecoming when the Spartans bowed, 14-7 (see above). This will be the first meeting between SJS and Denver with the Pioneers installed as six-point favorites. San Jose will travel to Stockton to meet COP next week in the traditional "Battle of the Bell."

San Jose Soccermen Meet Tough San Francisco Dons

Working on a string of two games without defeat, the San Jose State soccermen face their stiffest competition of the season when they meet the University of San Francisco Kickballers at Spartan Field tomorrow. Game time is 10 a.m.

The Dons, with two All American candidates in the lineup, are undefeated in the last four years of soccer play.

On the hopeful side, the Dons have been tied by San Francisco State, the same squad the Spartans tied a week ago.

USF has the top scorer in the conference in Joe Njoku-obi. The South African lad is being boomed. South African lad is being boomed. South African lad is being boomed.

Student Admission

Students will be admitted to the Homecoming game tomorrow night against the University of Denver by presentation of student body card at the gate. Tickets for the College of the Pacific game in Stockton next Saturday are available in the Graduate Manager's office.

Past Records Indicate SJS Victory Over Denver

By DON BECKER

If past Homecoming game records are any indication, the odds are 4-1 in favor of San Jose clipping Denver Saturday night.

Since the advent of Homecoming in 1948, the Spartans have lost only two contests. Last year College of Pacific outstruggled SJS, 14-7, in a tilt highlighted by rugged line play. In 1949, the Tigers roared past the Spartans in an affair that resembled a track meet. The Stockton boys scored on the first play of the game and waltzed in, 45-7.

FIRST HOMECOMING GAME

In San Jose's first Homecoming game, SJS was an easy victor over St. Mary's, 40-13. The Homecoming idea first hit the campus at the tail end of the 1947 grid campaign. The Rally Committee got together and thrashed out a plan to alleviate the lack-of-activities situation that typified Santa's football picture year after year.

Quarterback Benny Pierce tossed a pass to end Merv Lopes good for 51 yards to give the Spartans their only score of the 1953 Homecoming game against COP. The Tigers scored one touchdown but Tom Louderback crashed through the Tiger line and blocked the PAT attempt and San Jose was a squeaky, 7-6, winner.

SJS BEATS INDIANS

Of course, the greatest Homecoming game was the Stanford fracas of 1954 even though the Spartans had to journey to Palo Alto to play the game. It was the only time the Indians have ever been beaten by San Jose. Referring to the 19-14 upset, the SPARTAN DAILY bannered the head, "Stanford Win Sweetest of Any Year." No one then, nor since, has disputed this.

While San Jose is an underdog tomorrow night, the fact that the Spartans have come up with their Homecoming games, must be considered.

Frosh, COP Meet In Season Finale

By JIM HUSHAW

Freshman football coach Max Coley will "throw" an all-out effort against the College of Pacific Kittens at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Spartan Stadium in an attempt to score the Spartababes' first win of the season.

Coley will pin the victory hopes on the arms of Mike Jones and Roger Weiland, his two outstanding passing quarterbacks, who combined to set a new Frosh record in the first game of the season when they attempted 47 passes.

In the same contest, a 12-6 loss to San Jose Junior College, another Spartan Frosh record was broken when end Joe LaBeau received 11 passes from the air.

The Spartababes dropped a 34-13 contest to a strong East Contra Costa Junior College team in their last outing. The Spartans showed a strong running game in backs Ray Norton and Bill McCluskey.

COP is unbeaten, having scored a 33-13 win over the Chico State Jayvees and a 13-6 win over the Fresno State Jayvee team. Both were considered worthy opponents for the Kittens.

Heading the Kitten attack are Norman Bass and Wayne Thush. Bass is the brother of COP varsity star Dick Bass, and Thush was an All-City selection at end for Lincoln of San Jose last year. Ed Schwartz is another San Josean who is in the starting lineup for the Kittens.

Jones is a much better passer than Weiland, but the latter is a more aggressive halfback and runs the team well. Coley will open with Jones, but will use Weiland to a great extent.

SJS Harriers Seek Victory At Berkeley

Mike Ryan, San Jose State cross-country coach, will split his squad tomorrow as the Spartans enter two meets, Ryan will keep his top 11 men together for the California meet which starts at 12 noon on the Cal course.

The Spartan reserves will meet the Stanford JayVee team and several small colleges in the Bay Area on the Indian course at the same time.

Ryan will accompany the team to Berkeley for the meet. Wes Bond and Fred Green, who missed last week's contest against Fresno State, will be running for the Spartans.

Making up the top 11 men will be Bond, Green, L. D. Bennett, Bob Rush, Ron Gross, John Nelson, Carlos Saldivar, Bob Tafuya, Larry Swenson, Mike Yeager and Jerry Des Roches.

Saldivar, who finished as the top SJS man against Fresno last week, is expected to join Green and Bond in an effort to top the Bears. Last year the Spartans defeated the Bears in a Northern California College Championship meet.

Prof's Status in Cairo Unknown by Colleague

The English Department announced today that a member of its faculty, Dr. Paul Roberts, professor of English, is presently on a fellowship in strife torn Cairo, Egypt.

Though no word of his possible evacuation from Egypt has been received as yet, Robert V. Orem, assistant professor of English, received a letter yesterday, dated Oct. 25 and mailed Oct. 27.

"The letter," Orem said, "was only a social and personal one."

There was no mention of the political situation," Orem believes. Dr. Roberts felt he would be unable to mention anything concerning evacuation or the political situation due to possible censorship.

At present the United States Sixth Fleet is in the Mediterranean Sea helping to evacuate U.S. citizens from Egypt. Some Americans have been evacuated already but there is no evidence that Dr. Roberts was one of these.

A noted philologist, Dr. Roberts is the author of two books on grammar, "Understanding Grammar," 1954, and "Patterns of English," 1956. During 1955 Dr. Roberts taught linguistics at the University of Cairo and introduced a program for the teaching of history of the English language in Egyptian secondary schools.

In 1956 he received an appointment with the Egyptian Ministry of Education. He has held this position until the present crisis.

Phone calls, telegrams, flowers. Peace at the Kappa Alpha Theta house on 11th St. is broken again as various groups and individuals congratulate the 1956 Centennial Homecoming Queen, Anna Beal.

Crowned at the Coronation Ball in the Civic Auditorium last Friday night, Anna's many duties connected with Homecoming festivities will be supplemented by those dealing with Centennial activities planned throughout the year, but concentrated during May of 1957.

"I didn't even consider that I might be the queen," Anna said. "I was kind of stunned because I was with Barbara Dale (last year's Homecoming queen) most of Friday and, although she knew the outcome of the contest, she never led me to believe that I might have won. I was really thrilled."

On Saturday, besides the congratulatory telegrams and phone calls, Anna was the recipient of white orchids from the Phi Sigs and a bouquet of red carnations from their alumni chapter.

Previously, at the ball, she had received a bouquet of Spartan Roses, flowers developed and perfected especially for SJS' Centennial year, and a trophy. Since the coronation, she also has received many gifts from down town merchants.

'QUEEN ANNA SLEPT HERE'

"Saturday night," Anna continued, "Barbara and I went out on double dates and afterward we both spent the night at her house in San Jose. On Barbara's pillow, pinned by her father, was the note, 'Ex-queen (the old has-been) slept here' and on mine, 'Queen Anna slept here'."

Appearance on a TV program yesterday, pom-pomming at the bon-fire rally tonight and at the game tomorrow night, riding in a convertible during the parade and at pre-game activities, and appearing at half-time fill three days in Anna's now hectic life. Next week she will travel to Stockton to participate in the pact-signing between SJS and COP.

In addition to this schedule, Anna must keep up school work, and complete 10 hours on study desk each week. The 5 ft. 5 in. blonde is a junior art major who has future hopes of being an airline stewardess. She would like to study Oriental art at the same time.

ACTIVE IN HIGH SCHOOL

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beal of Davis, Anna has two brothers in high school. She was born March 18, 1936, in Oakland and attended high school in San Leandro. There she was student body secretary, commissioner of advertising and of entertainment, member of national Thespians and past honor queen of Jobs Daughters.

Serving as song girl for the first time this semester, Anna at present also is working on one of the Centennial committees. She was honored by the Pi Kappa Alphas last semester when they chose her "Dream Girl."

When quizzed as to how it felt to be Homecoming Centennial Queen, Anna replied, "It's the biggest thing that ever happened to me. It's so wonderful to be able to represent SJS. There are so many things to do and I'm looking forward to all the activities."

Anna will be attended throughout Homecoming festivities by her princesses, Ginny Biondi, Karen Weiss, Pat Parish and Donna Acuff.

Studying within the atmosphere of a bedroom in the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house where she lives, 1956 Homecoming Centennial Queen Anna Beal prepares homework for one of her classes. Anna, a junior art major, is carrying 15 units of art, English, education, political science and philosophy classes. The newly crowned queen hopes to be an airline stewardess upon graduation from SJS. The study of Oriental art also figures in her post graduation plans. —Photo by French

Alpha Phi Omega Ready To Set Bonfire Tonight

By MIKE BROWN

If tradition is broken tonight, Homecoming festivities will literally warm up at 8 o'clock when the Alpha Phi Omega boys set ablaze the annual bonfire at Spartan Stadium. Or, as is customary, saboteurs will stage their yearly marshmallow roast long before rally time.

The bonfire, always a pyromaniac's delight, has been set off as scheduled only once in the last five years. In fact, rivals sometimes get so fired up about the annual blaze that in 1950 the rally was insured with Lloyds of London for one million dollars.

Indeed, last year's successful bonfire was an exception. Almost as traditional as the bonfire raids are the stories which appear in the SPARTAN DAILY before and after the pillage. Witness the articles written in 1953:

"Eighty railroad ties have been donated for the bonfire, and according to Jerry Ball, rally committee chairman, it is expected to be the biggest bonfire in the history of the college."

And, then the Daily said, "A last minute offer by the Lew Jones construction company made possible the giant bonfire at Spartan Stadium. The original one was burned early Friday morning by students from a rival school."

Members of Alpha Phi Omega began building the bonfire early today, and representatives from the Interfraternity council will guard it until tonight.

Traditionally, Alpha Phi Omega takes on the job of carting the railroad ties to the bonfire site. However, active members help build the structure to be "fired." Each year the Southern Pacific donates the railroad ties.

The logs, which form the shell of the bonfire structure, are arranged in a hexagonal pattern. Placed alternately, log cabin style, the ties are stacked to a height of 25 ft. Scrap lumber donated by local firms, fills in the center portion of the hexagon.

At the rally one match and a can of gas destroy the bonfire which takes many hours of work to complete. At any rate one thing is for sure, the blaze always is followed by a blast of hot air—literally that is.

Authority Predicts Reaching of Mars

MONTEREY, (UP)—A noted space travel authority believes that the first flight to the planet Mars will come during the lifetime of most College-age people.

Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger, director of Research Projects Office of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala., said it is a scientific fact that Mars is within reach of man. He estimated that a flight now on the drawing board will start in about 45 years.

The proposed space ship will be electrically-propelled, the scientist told International Science Foundation Conference here.

Stuhlinger said the flight would be made in three phases—(1) Earth to satellite 1000 miles in space where a 730-ton space ship is to be assembled; (2) Earth satellite to 1000 miles off Mars, and (3) Mars satellite to Mars in a smaller ship carried in the big one.

Coronation Ball Gives Week Of Homecoming Banging Start

By JERRY ROTH

San Jose State's Coronation Ball, one of the "social events" each year, was the brain child of the 1953-54 Social Affairs Committee under the chairmanship of Vern Perry. Its purpose was to start Homecoming Week off with a bang.

Originally, Homecoming was only a two or three day affair and the Homecoming Dance was not traditional. It was usually held the night before or the evening after the big game with bands or records furnishing the music. Student turn-out was very casual and not especially interested.

FINA WAS FIRST

Perry secured Jack Fina's Orchestra, a top name band, for the first Ball, which was a spectacular success. As a matter of fact, the Coronation Ball, with its pomp and ceremony and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, went over in such a big way that almost immediately it became an annual affair.

It was held in the Civic Auditorium, which was entirely decorated in gold and white, from 9-11 o'clock the week-end preceding the Homecoming game.

CONTINUE TRADITION

In 1954-55, Jim Cottrell was Social Affairs Committee chairman, continued name band tradition with Orin Tucker.

Jack Tyler was chairman in 1955 and Jack Fina's Orchestra made a return appearance. Bill Squires, 1956 chairman, procured Walt Tolleson and his Orchestra.

Spirit Routines Demand Hours of Preparation

By DICK TYLER

So you think you might like to be a song girl or a cheer leader, do you? How would you like to have to do a fast, whirling song routine on a platform only a little over two feet wide? Or enthusiastically lead a cheer before thousands of fans and not have any of them cheering?

These are factors you'll have to consider if you have plans to become a song girl or yell leader, for they happen regularly with the San Jose State "spirit leaders."

Of course, life isn't all problems for these students, it also involves a lot of plain, hard work. Take the song girls, for instance. The present group, headed by blonde Barbara Dale was selected last spring and will continue to serve until next spring.

During the summer Barbara called practice meetings at her home. Answering the call were Donna Acuff, Anna Beal, Ginny Biondi, Jeri Bullock and Blanche Fritzen. The six began practicing their eight main routines and their special routines for touchdowns and after games.

During football games the girls perform whenever the band strikes up a number. Acting as "quarter-back" Barbara calls out the number of the routine she wants the group to do. At Spartan Stadium, the girls work on the small platform in front of the rooting section and are forced to eliminate several of their "moving" routines due to lack of space.

One of the group's embarrassing moments came during the recent Stanford-State game. At half-time the schools' song girls changed sides. Our girls were doing a routine with the Stanford band, which proceeded to play in six different tempos none of which was designed to make the girls look especially good.

Quite a bit of work is connected with being a yell leader. The five men, led by Terry Haycock, practice after every Wednesday night Rally Committee meeting. Special practice sessions may be called by Haycock.

The task of organizing and leading the yells falls to Haycock, Tom Bonetti, George Boynton, Brent Heisinger and Chuck Rigdon.

The main problem the men face is that of keeping the students' spirit at a high level. Many students, the yell leaders feel, are dressed as rooters but are only spectators. Lack of spirit, they say, especially can be noted when our team falls behind, a time when support is most needed.

The men also feel the pressure of working on a small, sometimes slippery, platform. They will all be especially watching their step at tomorrow's Homecoming game since at the last game head yell leader Haycock missed his step and fell off the platform. No injuries, but he was embarrassed.

Historians believe America's first pigs were landed by Hernando DeSoto at Gasparilla Island near Tampa, Fla., on May 25, 1539. There were 13 sows and two boars.

SJS Band Majorettes Boast Baton Twirling Titles, Prizes

Majorettes Jeanne Dixon and Shirley Smith will add their twirling talents to the marching band pageant during half-time at tomorrow's Homecoming game.

Jeanne, a junior home economics major from Bremerton, Wash., uses as her specialty acrobatic acts and twirling with one or two batons. Shirley, a sophomore business education major from Lakeport, does a juggling and twirling act with three batons.

Both girls will wear black velvet uniforms with gold sequin trimming. They plan a surprise routine for the Homecoming game.

A transfer from Olympic College in Bremerton, Jeanne has been twirling batons for about five years. She has marched with the Bremerton Drum and Bugle Corps and the Olympic College band. Jeanne was named Northwest U.S. Champion Twirler in 1954. For the past three years, she has taught baton twirling to children in her hometown.

In her second year with the SJS band, Shirley also twirled for several exchange rallies last fall. She was awarded first prize in the Horace Heidt Show competition during the summer of 1955. Shirley also appeared on the Del Courtney show in San Francisco, and marched with the "49er" Majorettes during 1955. In 1954, she received third place in state competition.

Band To Salute Alumni During Game Festivities

By LOU ANNE BONE

Remember when?

A salute to alumni and friends of San Jose State College will be the theme of Homecoming game half-time activities for the 80-member marching band. Under the direction of Roger Muzzy, assistant professor of music, the group plans to entertain on the football field for 15 minutes Saturday night.

"Since Homecoming activities are most meaningful to San Jose State students and alumni who come to the game, the half-time period has been extended to 30 minutes," Muzzy said.

The band's first appearance tomorrow night will be for the singing of the National Anthem. According to Muzzy, the anthem used this year is the newer Damrosch arrangement written in a lower key making it easier to sing.

Drum major Jerry Stasko will lead the marching band along with twirlers Shirley Smith and Jeanne Dixon.

At half-time, the band will march onto the field to "company fronts," then wheel into a "silent drill" in which the group is spread all over the field. A salute to alumni on the west side of the field will follow as the band marches to the strains of the Halls of Ivy, the Whiffenpoof Song and the college Homecoming songs.

A humorous routine will feature a take-off on a Freshman Brain, to show the mental capacity of incoming frosh. The wheels of the brain will represent the thinking process. The wheels go around swiftly at first, then bog down during the first examinations. A voice over the public address system will narrate the performance with such dialogue as, "Remember when you were freshmen; You couldn't find the right buildings and were generally pretty much alone."

Climax of the routine will come when Homecoming Queen Anna Beal and her court is introduced. The band, in the formation of two musical notes, will accompany the presentation with Elizabethan background music, the Cornation March by Meyerberger and O You Beautiful Doll.

Finally the troupe will move into an SJS formation while the audience sings the school song and hymn. "The Rally Committee plans to pass out printed words to the school hymn so that everyone can join in," Muzzy said.

University of Denver will be represented at the game by the Carlmont High School band from Belmont, directed by Russell Reed.

The trumpet section of the marching band will collaborate with SJS cheerleaders in introducing a new fanfare and yell. The trumpets will play—da da di da da da—after which the rooters will yell—Jose. During the game, two cheerleaders, two song girls and the trumpeters plan to circulate in the various sections of the stadium promoting spirit.

The Spartan band will lead the Homecoming parade tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in downtown San Jose. After the Denver game, the band will be seen at the College of Pacific, Cal Poly and Fresno State contests.

Drum Major Jerry Stasko Leads Marching Band Wearing Tall Shako

Look! Who's that strutting down the field in front of the college marching band? A baton, a hat called a shako, and a gold and white uniform are the only clues needed to see that this figure is the drum major.

Concluding his fourth and last year as marching band drum major is Jerry Stasko, senior music major. Jerry will lead the band during the Homecoming parade as well as directing half-time activities at the game.

A graduate of James Lick High School in San Jose, Jerry received his fundamental music training from William Baker, a former San Jose State graduate. Jerry will be graduated in June with a special secondary credential in music. He is a baritone player and a member of Phi Mu Alpha, professional music fraternity.

Stasko's responsibilities as drum major include possessing a thorough knowledge of the band's routines and formations, assisting the director in preparing the show and taking complete charge of the group while on the football field. In addition he directs the 15-member pep band at game rallies.

Stasko explains his strutting style as a "basic military style with variations suitable to football pageantry." He has developed his own style by watching other drum majors, and by studying with various teachers in the area.

Newspapers from several towns throughout California and across the nation may be found in the Reserve Book Room. The papers are put on a newspaper rack throughout the week as soon as they arrive at the SJS Library. This lets the Spartan student keep in touch with the happenings at home.

'Crying Princess and Golden Goose' To Be Presented Thrice on Nov. 17

The Speech and Drama Department will present the children's play, "The Crying Princess and the Golden Goose," in the Studio Theater on Nov. 17. There will be three performances: 10:30 a.m., 1:30 and 3 p.m. Seats should be reserved in advance, because of limited seating capacity, according to the Drama Department.

John Kerr, associate professor of drama, is in charge of the production, assisted by James Dunn, speech and drama student. The story is from one of Grimm's Fairy Tales. It concerns a king who discovers onions and whose daughter begins to cry when she peels them. The doctor diagnoses the case as sad-sickness, which no one seems able to cure.

The king, Wayne Ward, offers half his kingdom to the one who can cure his daughter, played by Patricia Murray. Three brothers, Karl, Josef and Franz, played by Robert Whitehead, Peter Rich and Richard Parks, are in search for an onion thief.

Franz, with the aid of an old woman, Mary Lu Odegard, and a golden goose, makes the princess laugh and wins the fortune.

Others in the cast are: Nancy Stephens, as the queen; Manuel Carillo and Carolyn Call, the king's butler and cook; Davey Schmidt, the king's wizard; Phillip Upton, the doctor; Bernard Gardner, a thief; Joseph Markham, the sheriff; Eli Feldstein, Jacquie Mundell, and Jay Michels as two sisters and an older brother, Gretel, Gertrude and Fritz; and Gail Anderson and Celia Cross, two ladies-in-waiting.

Last Curtain To Fall On First Play of Season

By BARBARA HARTMAN

The lively and witty comedy by William Shakespeare which opened the 1956-57 drama season at SJS, "Much Ado About Nothing," will have its last two performances tonight and tomorrow night in the Main College Theater. The play is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m., according to the Drama Department.

A novel feature of this production, directed by Miss Elizabeth Loeffler, associate professor of drama, is the permanent nature of the scenery. Scene changing is done by pulling a series of curtains which are a part of the scenery itself. This takes place during the action of the play with no break in the continuity. There is only one 10-minute intermission in this fast-moving production.

Harrison W. McCreath, assistant professor of speech, is technical director and stage designer. He has set the play in Tudor style, in keeping with the Elizabethan costumes designed by Miss Bernice Prisk, associate professor of drama.

Capacity audiences have been receiving the play very enthusiastically. The low comedy of Dogberry and Verges, played by Robert McNamara and Don West, who, in their stupidity, help unravel the complications, has been well-received to by the audience.

Sylvia Cirone and Ivan Paulsen portray the lovers, Hero and Claudio, and Wayne Ward plays Don Pedro, who is trying to promote the romance. Craig Thush is Don John, the villainous illegitimate brother of Don Pedro.

Leslie Robinson portrays husband-hating Beatrice who finally decides that she can become reconciled to a marriage to Benedick, played by Patrick Garvey. Others in the cast are: Christopher Brown as Leonato; Richard Geer, Antonio; James Givens, Balthazar; Lee Devins, Borachio; James Dunn, Conrade; Phillip Upton, Friar Francis; Richard Tash, a sexton; Robert Whitehead, a messenger; Gail Anderson and Elizabeth Keller, waiting women; Cheryl Del Biaggio and Marlene Balogh, pages; and Davey Schmidt, Robert Gordon and Thomas Prather, the watchmen.

Celeste McAdam is assistant director; Stephanie Cleary is prompter and Kay Lewis is in charge of the dances. Stage manager for the production is Sherman Blass, assisted by Jan Pearson. Stage crew includes Keith Glutsch, Clifford Cummins, Ed Holmes, Mary Lou Cuthbertson and James Dobbs.

Glen Pensinger is light manager, assisted by Larry Peterson. Melvin Swope, Sandra Campbell, Jean Marsh and David Valentine are on the lighting crew. Margaret Stanton and Michele Simonet are property manager and assistant, with Esther Christian and James Patterson as crew. J. Wendell Johnson, associate professor of drama, supervised painting, and Rollin Buckman, instructor in drama, is lighting director.

Record Amount Of Alums Seen

Three years ago, some 300 persons attended the Homecoming after-game dance and reunion. This year, a record crowd of 1500. 2000 former Spartans are expected to attend the annual event.

Largely responsible for this increase in attendance are the efforts of the Alumni Association, which has a big job in keeping alumni relations in pace with the increasing size of SJS.

Primary tool of the Association in promoting the growth of attendance at the yearly reunion-dance is a brochure which is mailed to all active Association members living in California.

This year, the brochure has been mailed to some 17,500 Golden-State Association members, according to Peg Major, Association total membership of 20,000 actives. The circular promotes the downtown parade and the Denver game as well as the Association sponsored dance. This is the third year that it has been sent out.

This year's alumni get-together will be held at the Exposition Hall, located on the Santa Clara County Fair Grounds. In 1955, the Association held the gathering at Havenly Foods, and although some 1500 attended, hundreds of others couldn't squeeze inside and were forced to leave "un-reunited."

Special guests of the Association will be the Spartan coaching staff, the song girls, and a pep band comprised of members from the marching band.

Financing for the assemblage and the mailing of brochures came from Association funds and from an allocation from the Fall Homecoming Committee.

All active members of the Association will be admitted to the dance and reunion free of charge, according to Miss Major. Inactive members will be charged 25 cents, she said.

Students To Present Reading

The SJS Speech and Drama Department will present a staged reading of "The Night of the Hunter," a novel by Davis Grubb, in Studio Theater on Nov. 9 and 10 at 8:15 p.m. There will be a 50-cent admission charge to raise money to augment funds for the Dr. Dorothy Kaucher Oral Reading Award, according to Dr. Courtney Brooks, assistant professor of speech.

"The Night of the Hunter" concerns the struggle between child-like innocence and loyalty and the sins of greed and lust. John Harper, a frightened but courageous boy, protects his secret and the life of his little sister, Pearl, as the hunter pursues him even to the point of death. The story takes place during the hard times of the thirties, along the Ohio River in West Virginia, Dr. Brooks said.

Members of the cast are: narrator, James Dunn; Pearl Harper, Barbara Norton; Willa Harper, Sylvia Cirone; John Harper, Jim Haynie; Ben Harper, Ronald Stokes; Preacher, Lee Devin; Uncle Birdie, Grant Salzman; Icey Spoon, Joyce Osborn; Walt Spoon, Christopher Brown; Rachel Cooper, Shirley Ahern; and Ruby, Leslie Robinson.

Dr. Brooks is directing the production, with James Dunn assisting in the adaptation. Dean Blackmore and the members of the cast are in charge of music; Charles A. Cook is handling lighting; Barbara Watts is house manager; and the San Jose Players are ushering.

Why A Sales Career With UARCO Incorporated?

BECAUSE UARCO is a leading supplier of continuous, carbon-interleaved business forms — products which are essential to the operation and management of all types of business and industry.

BECAUSE a UARCO sales career is professional selling at its best. Thoroughly trained to design and sell business forms and systems, UARCO sales representatives call on the owners and managers of business enterprises, assisting them to devise and install efficient methods of control.

BECAUSE there is no ceiling on your earnings. Our compensation plan provides for regular salary and commissions. Our sales representatives are assigned to their own territories, their own accounts, and enjoy a high volume of repeat business. Travel is at an absolute minimum.

BECAUSE UARCO backs its sales representatives with over 60 years of business forms experience and the facilities of six large plants. Sales offices are located in all major cities.

If this is your kind of career, sign up for an interview at the Placement Office. Mr. John Wimberly, San Francisco District Sales Manager, will conduct campus interviews on Monday, November 5.
